DOINS' IN BRUIN TOWN

COPYRIGHT, 1913, BY THE NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSOCIATION.

Turmoil, turmoil, confusion and grief! Everything in Bruin Town is topsy-turvy! Little bears are shrieking with terror and big bears are "making tracks" for the tall timbers! Goodness, gracious me, of course they are.

A great, burly, red-eyed, switching-tailed, stamping bear is loose in Bruin Town! How he found his way into the peaceful little bear city no one seems to know.

But—look at him. Isn't he a dreadful creature?

The first thing Bruin Town inhabitants knew about the unwelcome visitor was when he came tearing down the main street, which is nothing but a wide path in the woods, you know—howling and snorting as if he would kill everything in sight.

Not a single slow, easy-going bear could match his strength against this terrifying creature without running the chance of being cut almost in two by its long sharp horns.

So what do you suppose our old friend, Wandering Brother, thought of doing?

Well, you can see for yourselves. He just slipped up, quickly, as the awful animal rushed by him, and nabbed his tail!

Look what a race they are having! Look how Wandering Brother hangs on, although he is thrown hither and thither, up in the air and down again just like a rubber ball!

Wonder how long he can hang on. Oh, oh! Look how big Father Bruin has been toppled over onto his poor head! You see, he couldn't get out of the way in time.

Poor little Tommy is going to get an awful fall in a minute, too!

And oh, oh! See grandmother bear and her favorite grandchildren going up that tree yonder.

The Bruins never did have such a fright as this. Wonder how long Wandering Brother can hang on, and whether he will scare the stranger so badly that he'll run right out of Bruin town as fast as he ran in?

The and the

CHAPTER III.

Why he just thought and thought and thought until he suddenly came to the conclusion that this very ball, mud-spattered, old, worn, ugly-looking was the same beautiful Miss Bouncing Ball he used to love.

You think he would spin right over to her and tell her of his love? No, you are wrong.

He just kept his thoughts to himself and waited to see whether she would ever say a kind word about the Twirling Top who used to ask her to marry him in the old happy days.

He waited and waited; hoped and hoped.

She never even mentioned his name! After a week in the rubbish can, Twirling Top felt a sharp bump on his side of the house. Then he fell, violently, between cabbage peel and corn cobs and carrot tops right up near the top of the can.

Another bump, and out he jumped right onto the backyard paving, near the kitchen door!

"Oh, what joy to feel the air once more," he said to himself. Just as he hit the pavement some one—was the little kitchen maid—cried out, gleefully, "Oh, here is the gill top." I've found the little master's gill top."

So Mr. Twirling Top was taken back to the play room once more. He had a good scrub and then commenced his old work of spinning!

Sometimes the other playthings in the nursery talked about the poor ball, Miss Bouncing Ball, who had been so proud!

They wondered where she could have gone so mysteriously.

But Twirling Top never said a word!

ICE STRIKE CALLED OFF IN CINCINNATI

Three Weeks of Suffering Are Ended. City Authorities Forced to Operate Plants.

CINCINNATI, July 7.—Following a series of conferences Sunday between representatives of the unions affected and ice manufacturers, striking ice employees decided to return to work Monday, thus ending an ice strike which has been existing three weeks, has caused much suffering and forced the city authorities to seize the ice plants and operate them for the city. The drivers and helpers are to be granted an increase in pay and recognition of their union will be a subject of discussion. The engineers and firemen's union will be recognized and other demands will be arbitrated.

'GETS-IT' Chases Corns Alright!

Easy As One, Two, Three; No Fuss, No Pain, by Using "GETS-IT."

Just take two seconds to put a little "GETS-IT" on that corn. That corn is "done for" as sure as the sun rises. The corn shrivels up, vanishes. That's the sure!

"We Can Dance All Night and Our Corns Won't Hurt. We Both Use 'GETS-IT'—It Gets Corns Every Time. Sure!"

prise you get by using this new-plan corn cure. There's nothing to stick to the stocking or sock; your corn pains stop. You're saved the bother of applying plasters that make the corn bulge out from the shoe. You're saved saving that corn into the healthy flesh and "pull" no more fussing with bandages. You don't have to help by picking and dragging out your corns, or cutting with knives or razors. "GETS-IT" is safe, painless, stops pain, never hurts healthy flesh. It is guaranteed. Try it on warts, calluses and bunions, too.

"GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists at 25 cents a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence Co., Chicago.

SHOW GIRL CHANGES MIND

Says She Will Not Marry Actor But Prosecute Him.

LOGANSPOUT, Ind., July 7.—Elaine Barton, the girl arrested here with William Sites, an actor, now says she will not marry Sites, as she had agreed to and says she will aid the authorities in prosecuting him under the Mann white slave act. When seen at the jail she said she was through with him. Miss Barton says she has relatives in Detroit, Mich., and wishes to go there. The officers here believe her, and it is possible she will be released in a day or two. She has promised to appear against Sites if he is ever indicted. A charge of larceny may be filed against Sites, as the police, in searching his grip, found a silk skirt belonging to Miss Hattie Koons, where Sites and the Barton girl roomed, after they were left here stranded by a carnival company.

Don Douglass, white slave commissioner, has filed a report of the case with the authorities at Washington, and word will be received early next week as to whether Sites will be prosecuted. Sites and the girl are now held on statutory charges.

JOHN MARTIN, LUMBER MAN, PASSES AWAY

John W. Martin, 1207 S. Main st., a prominent lumber man of this city, died at his residence Sunday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock. Mr. Martin was one of the members of the firm of Martin-Eckman Lumber & Timber Co. He was born in Lebanon, Pa., in the year 1858, and moved west when he was 11 years old. In the year 1883 he met and married Miss Anna Blain in Louisville, Ky., who survives him. For 12 years he lived at Louisville. Since then he has spent the greater part of his life here. He has always been connected with the lumber trade.

A daughter, Carrie, and two sons, Elmer of Chicago and Fred of South Bend survive, and one sister, Mrs. Chas. Eger of Mishawaka and two brothers, Henry of this city and Charles of Lebanon, Pa. Mr. Martin died one day after his 55th birthday. The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Father DeGroote will officiate and the burial will be made in Cedar Grove cemetery.

WASHINGTON DRY FOR FIRST TIME

New Jones-Works Excise Law is Strictly Enforced—Not Even a Hotel Guest Could Get a Drink.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Washington was actually "dry" Sunday, probably for the first time in its history. This was the first Sunday of the new Jones-Works excise law for the District of Columbia and its strict provisions were enforced to the letter.

Not even a bonafide registered guest at a hotel could have a drink with a meal. The exclusive clubs could serve nothing. Their officers had been warned that the "locker system" would be construed as a violation of the law. They also were notified that liquors actually bought on Saturday could not be used and served on Sunday.

The enforcement of the new law that purchases of common alcohol for medical purposes at drug stores are registered in the same way as dangerous poisons.

INDUSTRY 500 YEARS OLD

LONDON, July 7.—British paper makers, who are taking steps to form a federation, control an industry more than 500 years old. The first book printed on English paper, "De Proprietatibus Rerum," appeared in 1485, the paper having been made at Hertford by John Tate, who subsequently became lord mayor of London. It is of excellent quality, and bears a water mark consisting of an eight pointed star inclosed in a double circle. At the end of the book are printed the lines: And John Tate the Younger doo make this paper thynne. That now in our Englysch this boke is printed Inne.

NO LIGHT FOR BIRD'S SAKE

ATLANTA, Ga., July 7.—One of the big downtown buildings is crested with a huge sign. For several nights some of the large globes which shed the light on the gradually painted framework of the sign have refused to gleam. A lineman was sent up to investigate. Nestling in the wires swinging between the lights the electrician found a little bird's nest. In the nest was one blue egg. Near by, on the coping of the tall building, a mother bird hopped nervously about, helpless to prevent the destruction of her new summer home. The electrician went back to the ground and reported the matter to the chief. The nest will be undisturbed until the egg hatches.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 7.—Lunch served at the Fifth av. high school to parents to illustrate the school lunch system now in operation at that institution was pronounced a success by the officials who planned the affair. The intention was to have patrons of the school see just how their children get wholesome lunches at cost.

drawing, selected from the work of the class during the school year, were displayed. They included pictures in pencil, colored crayon, charcoal and water colors. Two rows of tables were decorated with stencil work. Several pieces of hand painted china by Mrs. Towell, and oil paintings by H. M. Towell added to the exhibit.

ABUSED HER CHILD; GETS THREE YEARS

Mother Kept Her Child in a Filthy Room and Fed Her Through Cut at Bottom of the Door.

NEW YORK, July 7.—"Your treatment of your child is the most outrageous I ever heard of. It is too bad you cannot be punished more. It is astounding to me that a mother could treat her child in such a manner," said Justice Salmon in Brooklyn special sessions Saturday as he sentenced Mrs. Elizabeth Powell, 25, of 593 Fifth av., Brooklyn, to the Bedford reformatory for three years.

Mrs. Powell is the woman who several weeks ago kept her seven-year-old child, Irene, in a filthy room and fed her through a cut at the bottom of the door. Day after day the child was kept prisoner in the room, and when she finally was rescued by Agents Raynor and Nash of the Brooklyn Children's society she was half starved and partially demented.

Mrs. Powell dodged the police three weeks after the removal of the child. She was captured in a furnished room at 93 Boerum place, by Raynor.

Irene now is in St. Joseph's home, to which she was committed by Justice Wilkin in the Brooklyn Children's court. She has recovered from her abuse.

HOG CHOLERA FIGHT TO BEGIN

Government Experts Will Establish Station in Montgomery County With Experts in Charge.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., July 6.—Montgomery county has been selected as the location for the Indiana hog cholera station created by the ultimate department of the agriculture to carry on a systematic warfare against hog cholera. An appropriation of $25,000 has been made which will be expended in this county in demonstrating a serum which the government has indorsed.

The farmers of Montgomery county have been living in hopes of the selection of this county for this station as hog cholera has been unusually disastrous during the last few years.

Within a week the appropriation of $25,000 will be available, and two or three of the five experts who will ultimately be assigned to the station will be here ready to go to work. This county has a farm agent who has been doing a great deal of work to promote the idea of better farming.

The general direction of the experts which will be sent by the government will be made by R. A. Chitty. It is probable that he will divide the county into sections, assigning an expert to each one, and it will be the duty of each expert to look after the hogs in the section to which he is assigned.

The government does not say that the new serum will cure hog cholera, but does insist that it will prevent its spread and save many well hogs in a sick drove of swine if properly administered. If any farmer wants the service of one of the experts to administer the serum it will be done free of charge.

The experts will establish a quarantine coveinstitute with the boundary lines of Montgomery county and it is said that no cholera infected hogs will be allowed to come in or go out of the county during the time the hog station is established in this city. All directions will be made from the central station in this city, and if any farmer desires information about the matter he should communicate with Mr. Chitty.

The movement to secure the station was inaugurated about a month ago by Mr. Goodbar of this city, who was chairman of the executive committee which had charge of the "Better Farming and Country Life" meeting which was held in Indianapolis about that time.

HER PREMONITION ABOUT THIEF TRUE

Woman Thinks Man is in Her Flat and When She Returns Home She Finds One and Grapples With Him.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mrs. Edith Rosenberg, who lives in a third floor apartment at 908 Tiffany st., the Bronx, returned from a shopping trip yesterday afternoon and was about to open the door when in alarm she said to her young son, Israel:

"I'm sure there is a burglar in the house."

She had no sooner made the remark than a young man opened the door and tried to dash down the stairs. Mrs. Rosenberg made a grab at him and the two grappled on the landing.

In the mean time young Rosenberg had rushed down stairs into the street crying "Burglars!" While the boy's cries were attracting a crowd of neighbors the thief contrived to break the hold Mrs. Rosenberg had on him and made his way to the street.

The reception committee of neighbors immediately forgot the heat and gave chase.

Policemen John the Chase. The burglar turned into 153d st. and ran eastward. The distance from Tiffany st. to West 153d av. is about a mile. The burglar did the distance in Whisk Broom time, but had company all the way.

Just east of Tiffany st. Policemen Buck and Tracey saw the race and joined in. Many of the neighbors, nearly overcome by the heat and exertion, then dropped out. Buck and Tracey shouted to the fugitive several times to stop, but every time they did so he threw on high speed.

The three shots sent in his direction had no more effect on him at first than had the policemen's commands to halt.

When the burglar reached Whitlock av. he made a quick turn to the south and ran into an apartment house at No. 927 and up three flights of stairs. Buck and Tracey were at his heels and grabbed him as he was pattingly trying to make another floor, presumably for the roof.

Loot Found on Him. At the Morrisania police station the policemen found, among less incriminating objects on him, two jimmies, a revolver and $400 worth of jewelry.

SNAKE COILS ABOUT LEGS

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., July 7.—George W. Huff, age 42, attempted to kill a large blacksnake with a cradle he was using to cut wheat along a line fence when the reptile showed fight and attacked Huff. The snake coiled its body around his ankles, throwing him to the ground, and in falling he severed an artery and several ligaments in his left wrist by striking the sharp blade of the cradle. After a fight, Huff cut the snake's body into pieces with his pocket knife. He almost bled to death before he reached his home. His condition is critical.
